Planned Parenthood Advocates of Arizona Announces Endorsement of David Garcia

PHOENIX – Planned Parenthood Advocates of Arizona is pleased to announce its endorsement of David Garcia, candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction.

David Garcia is one of four statewide candidates endorsed by Planned Parenthood Advocates of Arizona. Consideration was made because of the importance of the races and each candidate's commitment to making women's health a pillar in his or her campaign.

"The position of Superintendent of Public Instruction is important in supporting our work to bring comprehensive sexuality education to Arizona's young people," says Jodi Liggett, Director of Public Policy, Planned Parenthood Advocates of Arizona.

This year's election is the opportunity for moderate, common-sense candidates to be elected into office – people who truly represent the interests and wellbeing of Arizonans.

"Arizona is at a crossroads," stated Dr. Garcia. "We can either continue our race to the bottom by reelecting the status quo, or we can demand better by electing a state superintendent ready and willing to strengthen and improve our public schools. I'm ready for the challenge, and I'm honored to have the support of Planned Parenthood."
