Planned Parenthood Advocates of Arizona Announces its Endorsed Candidates

PHOENIX -- Planned Parenthood Advocates of Arizona (PPAA) proudly announces its endorsement of Arizona candidates running in the upcoming elections.

“We are pleased to support pro-women’s health candidates who advocate our positive mission,” says Jodi Liggett, Director of Public Policy, PPAA. “The candidates we are endorsing stand for women, stand for reproductive health issues, stand for a better standard of education, and stand for an Arizona where politics doesn’t interfere with personal health care decisions.”

Two years ago, PPAA’s PAC became a Super PAC, which was made possible by the contributions of hundreds of PPAA members who specifically supported the PPAA PAC. The Super PAC’s primary focus is to support endorsed candidates who stand for access to women’s health, sexuality education, and the freedom for Arizonans to make their own health care decisions and choose their own health care provider.
